SEYMOUR, INDIANA, FRIDAY, MAY 4, 1917.

PRICE TWO CENTS

OWENS ARRESTED IN INDIANAPOLIS

Local Man Returned Here to Answer to Charge of Contributing to Delinquency of Girl.

HELD UNDER BOND OF $500

Waived Preliminary Hearing Before Mayor This Morning—Defendant Left Two Weeks Ago.

After a search which was carried to several cities in the central west, Ed Owens was arrested Thursday afternoon in Indianapolis and returned here several hours later by Chief of Police Wallace to answer to a charge of contributing to the delinquency of Margaret Hill, aged sixteen years, of this city. Owens is a brother-in-law of the girl and the couple disappeared about two weeks ago. At that time the girl's mother, Mrs. Finley Hill, told the police that she was confident that the girl had been kidnapped and insisted that every effort be made to apprehend the defendant. Circulars bearing Owens' picture and a description were sent to police departments in several cities.

Nothing was heard from either the girl or Owens until the first of this week when the girl unexpectedly returned home. She told the police and her parents that Owens was in Indianapolis when she left him and the family employed F. W. Wesner to assist in locating him. Wesner made a trip to Indianapolis and found that the couple had been there after their hasty departure from Seymour. The girl is said to have told officials they had represented themselves as man and wife and gave their address as Portland, Ore. She said she came home when Owens' funds were reduced to $2.50 and then he gave her $1.25 to pay her car fare here.

The girl gave the Indianapolis police the address of the place where Owens had last lived and from the landlady the police found he had been working at the Indianapolis gas factory and expected to return there Thursday to receive pay for several days' work. A detective was placed near the factory and arrested him when he approached the office door. Owens also left a suit case at his rooming house, it is said, and another detective had been placed there to watch for him in case he returned.

Chief Wallace was notified late Thursday that Owens had been apprehended and he went to Indianapolis immediately. Owens was returned and placed in jail. He waived a preliminary hearing before Mayor Ross this morning on a charge of contributing to the girl's delinquency and was bound over to circuit court under $500 bond which he had not been able to furnish this afternoon. He was arrested in Indianapolis on a charge of kidnapping which was changed as soon as he was brought here.

FREE VACCINATION FOR THOSE UNABLE TO PAY

Board of Health Gets Quantity of Vaccine to be Used When Physicians Make No Charge.

In order that all school children may be vaccinated in compliance with the instructions of the city board of health, the board has received a quantity of vaccine which will be used for persons who are unable to pay the customary fee to the physicians. The vaccine furnished by the board of health is purchased by the city. Children who are unable to pay the regular physician's charge may secure the vaccine from Dr. M. F. Gerrish, secretary of the board of health, and the vaccination will be made by any physician in the city free of charge. The decision to follow this plan was reached by the members of the board in view of their order that no child could attend school unless he was vaccinated. There was one new case of smallpox reported today. The health board declares that its closing order against all public gatherings, effective at 8 o'clock this morning, includes all societies and lodges.

Farmers Anxiously Awaiting Warm
Sunshine to Complete Plowing and Corn Planting.

ORCHARDS NEED SUNSHINE

Many of the Apple Trees are in Full
Blossom and Bright Weather
Would Insure Crop.

With the eyes of the Indiana cities turned to the farmer to furnish larger crops than ever before and the farmer striving to meet the responsibility which rests upon him, he is deeply concerned because of the delay with the usual spring work on account of the continued rains. "We are asked to produce bigger crops," declared one farmer this afternoon, "and we will do it, too, if the weather man will just give a little co-operation." The weather conditions have been unfavorable this spring for rapid development of the wheat and on account of the excessive moisture it will be several days before the ground can be put in shape for corn planting.

The weather bureau's report for tomorrow is not as encouraging as it might be. It predicts that rain or snow will fall in the north portion of Indiana during the night but says that from all indications Saturday will be cooler with fair weather. What the farmers want now is a period of warm bright weather and say that it is imperative if they are to have bumper corn crops this summer.

Farmers declare that the rains during the last few days have not damaged the wheat for in some localities the ground was dry and could absorb considerable moisture. However, the fields have had sufficient moisture now, they declare and the wheat would grow rapidly under favorable spring conditions. Many farmers have been hindered in plowing for wheat on account of the wet ground and even with warm weather it will be several days before plowing can be resumed generally throughout the county. The farmers are anxious to get their seed corn in the ground and as soon as the rains cease will work night and day in an effort to make up for the time they have lost.

Orchardists are also wishing for warm sunshine. At the Kingston orchard, the Rome Beauties are in full bloom and have reached the stage where pollenization must be effected. This is done largely by honey bees and very few will work on the blossoms in dully, cloudy weather. A few days of warm spring weather would work a remarkable change on the farm and would furnish more assurance of bigger crops.

I. O. O. F. ANNIVERSARY

Is Observed by Seymour Lodge with Interesting Meeting.

Seymour Lodge No. 204 I. O. O. F. observed the ninety-eighth anniversary of the order with a social session and entertainment last evening. Music was furnished by Barkman's orchestra and a varied program was given, including an exhibition drill by Canton Seymour No. 11, the military branch of the order, and an exhibition of military maneuvers by a squad of volunteer rookies with Capt. Oscar B. Abel of Company K, I. N. G., in charge. Following the program a luncheon and smoker were enjoyed.

EDUCATORS TO MEET.

School Heads Called for Conference
by Governor Goodrich.

Supt. T. A. Mott will attend a meeting of the school heads of the state tomorrow at Indianapolis for the purpose of planning ways and means for the mobilization of the educational forces of the state which will provide for all an opportunity of enlisting in some branch of service for the state and nation.

The meeting, which was called by Gov. Goodrich, will be held at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning in the chamber of the House of Representatives, and will consider every phase of the needs of the state.

POLICE TO RENEW CAMPAIGN AGAINST UNTAGGED DOGS

Official Notice Given That 25 Cents
Will be Paid for Those Brought to Police Station.

If your dog doesn't wear one of the required license tags for 1917 he is very apt to fall victim of some small boy who wants to pick up some "easy money" under the offer of the police department. Chief Wallace has published a notice that a reward of 25 cents will be paid for every untagged dog that is brought to the police station. The officers are expecting that a large number will be brought in by claimants for the reward. The reward was authorized by the city council at a recent meeting and will be paid from the dog license fund. The administration and police are insistent that the license ordinance shall be obeyed by every dog owner in the city and have again launched a drive for its enforcement.

CENSORSHIP CLAUSE IS STRICKEN OUT BY HOUSE

Speaker Clark and Other Democratic Leaders Oppose Section in Spy Bill.

By United Press.
Washington, May 4.—The house today struck out the censorship clause in the spy bill, by a vote of 220 to 167. Speaker Clark and other Democratic leaders and Miss Rankin of Montana, voted to strike out the censorship provision.

That President Wilson should be empowered to serve an ultimatum on neutrals of the world warning them that continued re-exportation of American food stuffs into Germany would be met with complete severance of commercial relations was demanded by Senator Walsh of Montana on the floor of the senate today.

VIRTUAL ARMISTICE EXISTS ALL ALONG RUSSIAN FRONT

No Firing on Austro-Russian Front and German Border is Quiet.

By United Press.
Petrograd, May 4.—A virtual armistice exists along almost the entire Russian front today. Not a shot has been fired on the Austro-Russian front for more than a month. There has been no real activity on the German-Russian sector. At many places Russian and German soldiers are fraternizing, meeting unarmed. The commander of the Russian forces on the Minsk front today issued a statement warning his forces to beware of a German ruse. He declared that the German friendliness was part of a plan to obtain information on Russian conditions.

OVER-SUBSCRIPTION FOR LIBERTY LOAN ASSURED

Not Even Rough Estimate of Total Amount Subscribed Available Now.

By United Press.
Washington, May 4.—Over-subscription for the first issue of the liberty loan is practically assured. Over 1,000 applications for subscription to the two billion dollar loan were received over night, it was announced today. Not even a rough estimate on the amount subscribed was immediately available.

NO CHARGE MADE FOR APPLICATIONS

Local Banks Will Handle Requests of Those Desiring to Buy Bonds of Liberty Loan.

RECEIVED UNTIL JUNE 15

Over-Subscription of First Issue of
Two Billion is Predicted by Treasury Department.

Local banks have arranged to accommodate their patrons who desire to buy bonds of the liberty 1917 issue, applications for which will be received until June 15. The local banks will not charge a commission for handling the bonds. Under the arrangement announced by the treasury department the applications will be filed with the regional bank which will issue the bonds. The local banks are located in the territory supplied by the federal bank at St. Louis.

In announcing the plans for handling the bonds, Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo said:

"I have determined to make an initial offering of $2,000,000,000 of the 3½ per cent. 'Liberty loan' of 1917. The bonds will be dated July 1, 1917, with interest payable semi-annually, January 1 and July 1. The maturities will be announced later. In accordance with the provisions of the act, the bonds will be convertible into bonds bearing a higher rate of interest than 3½ per cent, if any subsequent series of bonds shall be issued at a higher rate of interest before the termination of the war between the United States and the German government.

"The 'Liberty loan' will be offered at par as a popular subscription, and ample opportunity will be given to every man and woman in the United States who wishes to subscribe, to secure an absolutely safe investment, free from Federal, state or local taxation (except, of course, inheritance taxes). The bonds will be in such denominations as will put them within the reach of every investor. Details as to denominations, redemptions, etc., have not been fully worked out, but announcement will be made in due season.

"Subscriptions will be received until June 15, 1917. The bonds will be ready for delivery July 1. Allotments will be made as rapidly after June 15 as possible. The details as to manner of payment for the bonds will be announced later. It is sufficient to say at the moment that payments will be arranged in such a way as not to cause inconvenience or disturbance. Deposits of funds will be made in as large a number of banks throughout the country as practicable, and they will be withdrawn as gradually as the requirements of the government will permit, in order that the minimum amount of money shall at any one time be taken out of the channels of business.

"Since the great bulk of the credits to be established for the foreign governments is required for purchases made in this country, the operation will be largely a transfer or exchange of credits and should have

GERMANY THREATENED OR IS PLAYING SHREWD GAME

Reports Received of Serious Internal Dissensions, Hinting at Government Change.

By United Press.

Copenhagen, May 4.—Either Germany is playing a shrewd publicity game to cause a relaxation of preparation for war in the United States or is threatened by internal dissensions. Advices today stated the seriousness of the situation in Germany and Austria and hinted that Count Von Bernstorff, former ambassador to the United States might be named to succeed Foreign Secretary Zimmerman with the idea of attempting a reconciliation with the United States.

This information coming from apparently authentic sources leads to the conclusion that Germany is either actually sorely tried or is trying to lull the United States into believing that the dissolution of Germany may be near.

BRITISH TROOPS FORCED BACK FROM NEW POSITIONS

Field Marshal Haig's Forces Unable to Hold all New Territory Against Defensive.

By United Press.

London, May 4.—The tremendous weight of the German reserve thrown into the face of the British advance has forced a slight falling back of the British troops from the advanced positions captured yesterday, Field Marshal Haig reported today. His statement, however, revealed progress on an entirely new sector from that in which the British drive in the last forty-eight hours has centered—southeast of St. Quentin.

APPEAL TO COMMISSION TO SETTLE SOUTH BEND STRIKE

Street Car Company Offers Two Cents
Increase and Men Demand
Three Cents.

By United Press.

Indianapolis, May 4, 1917.—South Bend street car strikers and managers of the company today appealed to the public service commission to act as a board of arbitration to settle the wage difficulty. The commission will hold a meeting late today to decide whether or not it will act. The company has also offered a wage increase of two cents an hour. Three cents an hour was asked.

RUSSIAN WORKERS DEMAND DETAILS

Delegates of the Workmen's and Soldiers' Committees Want to Know Government's Aims.

SITUATION IS VERY CRITICAL

Two Thousand Soldiers Guard Building Where Ministers Assemble for Conference.

(By William G. Shepard, United Press Staff Correspondent)

Petrograd, May 4.—Open rupture between the provisional government and the workmen's and soldiers' committees came today.

The workmen and soldiers demanded that the government take them into its confidence. The tensely of the situation is growing hourly. The council representing the workmen and soldiers listed a long series of the provisional government's acts to which they objected and then declared they would not approve of any loans to Russia until fully informed of the complete war aims of the entente or of all details of compacts entered into by the czar and his ministers.

The council vigorously disapproved a statement credited to the foreign minister asserting that Russia endeavored to crush Germany any Austria. Great indignation was aroused among the workmen and soldiers' delegates by the announcement that the provisional government intended to stand by the czar's contracts with the allies.

A dramatic speech appealing to the patriotism of the workmen and soldiers delivered by Foreign Minister Milukoff from the balcony of the government building apparently staved off the crisis.

From a jeering mob that demanded his resignation, the foreign minister turned the throngs which had paraded the streets into a crowd which cheered his utterances pledging unrelenting war on Germany. The situation was not entirely cleared up today, however.

"When I see your banners reading: 'Down with Milukoff', I fear not for myself but for Russia," the Foreign Minister said. "I fear for what the outside world's interpretation of your demonstration will be. Your provisional government cannot strike the name of Russia from the list of allied nations. The provisional government will never consent to a separate peace. We look to you to trust us and give us your support."

At yesterday's meeting of the council and ministers 2,000 soldiers guarded the building where the government leaders met. A great throng joined in a gigantic demonstration. Speakers from the soldiers' and workmen's delegates exhorted that the people join in their demands that the government take all peoples into its confidence. Great plans are going forward for a big meeting tonight.

MINING OF NORTH SEA

New Plan Considered to Meet the Submarine Menace.

By United Press.

Washington, May 4.—Heavy mining of partially all the North Sea has been under consideration between the allies and the United States as an efficient means of thwarting Germany's submarine campaign, it became known today. In addition to this scheme there has been official consideration of a plan to wreck the U-boats at their base.

'CLEAN UP' AN ANCIENT IDEA

Hercules Cleaned the Augean Stables by Using River as Broom, Long, Long Ago.

Nowadays Health and Beauty Demand Sanitation in Home and Town—More Than 6,000 Communities Are Busy This Year.

By HAROLD G. BLODGETT.

"Clean-up" effort is of prehistoric origin. Ask the school children and they will tell you that in Greek mythology they read of a "clean-up day" that for colossal endeavor and results probably beats any renovating job of the rapid-fire sort undertaken since. It is not a pretty story, but here it is: Augeas, the king of Elis, was not strong on sanitation.

For decades he had permitted filth to accumulate. He didn't care much about his people or his health, but he had a little herd of some 3,000 oxen of which he was considerably proud. For 30 years the stable which housed the herd had not been cleaned, when suddenly old Augeas awoke. He wanted the stable cleaned.

The job was so stupendous that ordinary mortals could make no headway against the piles of refuse, until Hercules, who had never before been famed as a sanitarian, stepped up and said he would clean it up. Two rivers, the Alpheus and the Peneus, flowed near by. Hercules changed the course of the rivers until they flowed through the Augean stables, and in a day the "clean-up" task was accomplished.

Hercules Emulated.

Since that day "clean-up" has had its place in the world's vernacular. With the spring the desire to refurbish comes subconsciously into the hearts of men and women, and communities. But without direction and sustained effort the expression of that desire, in the form of the ordinary "clean-up day" or "week," has resulted in such a superficial sally against filth that the more experienced and earnest civic workers have for long held such "days" in disrepute.

Hercules was of the gods. If he wanted to "clean-up" in a day the heavens backed him and he did it. Since that day men and women, mere mortals, have sought to emulate the original "clean-up" expert in speed, and they have failed. Communities for years have conducted "clean-up days" of the annual-bath order, only to find that the next day there was filth "behind the ears" and "between the toes." And a week later conditions generally were as bad as ever.

It remained for Allen W. Clark, publisher of a St. Louis trade paper, to turn the "spring clean-up" interests into permanent and constructive channels. Years ago Mr. Clark made up his mind that this could be done; that real campaigns, working toward definite ideals and accomplishing real results, could be organized everywhere to take the place of the old hit-or-miss "clean-up" methods.

In May, 1912, he founded a "clean-up" and "paint-up" organization. He hoped that a thorough-going movement, national in its scope and practical in its principles, might take the place of the "annual bath" idea as expressed in the old-time "clean-up day" or "week."

Movement Growing.

For four years the scope of this movement has been rapidly extended until this year it is co-operating with more than 6,000 local communities in the organization and direction of real "clean-up and paint-up" campaigns, not "days" or "weeks."

Continuous campaigns for homes and home towns beautiful, sanitary and safe, conducted by permanent committees, and involving the co-operation of city and town officials, clubwomen, commercial organizations, the school-children, fire prevention interests, all business men and property owners and the press, and the goal aimed at by all of the "clean-up" propaganda. And this solid success is being achieved in thousands of cities and towns throughout the country today. In fact, requests for "clean-up" assistance have come from South America, the Philippines, Australia, India, Canada, England and France. The slogan, "Clean up and paint up" has indeed become the battle cry of earnest and practical civic workers 'round the world.

Such magazines as Outlook, Pictorial Review, Every Week, Associated Sunday Magazine, the American City, Kansas Municipalities, Journal of Michigan Municipalities have printed extensive editorials and feature articles on the practical value of the work.

Swing into line with the Spirit of Springtime; take a tip from Old Mother Nature.

MAYBE your house would look better with a coat of paint; or possibly the fence, outbuildings or scenes seem a little dingy in the bright spring sunshine. How about your floors? Are they showing heel-marks? And has some of the furniture been scratched up?

Painting or varnishing will not only beautify it; it will make the wood last so much longer that it's actually cheaper to paint than not. Paint fills the cracks and holes where germs lurk, and makes it sanitary. Spring calls for PAINT. Heed the call of Spring!

The Best Place to Buy Paint

We have all kinds of paints, varnishes and brushes, at the most reasonable prices. Drop in and look them over.

THE HOME GARDEN

The Republican is conducting this column with the cooperation of the National Emergency Food Garden Commission to inspire the planting of more food gardens throughout the country. Members of the commission are, Charles Lathrop Pack, president of American Forestry Association; Luther Burbank, Dr. Charles W. Elmer, Prof. Irving Fisher, John Hays Hammond, Fairfax Harrison, Myron T. Herrick, Dr. John Grier Hibben, Emerson McMullin, A. W. Shaw, Carl Vrooman, assistant secretary of agriculture; Capt. J. B. White, U. S. Shipping Board; James Wilson, former secretary of agriculture. You should watch this column every day. Any questions should be written on one side of the paper and sent to the Garden Editor of the Republican.

Sweet Corn

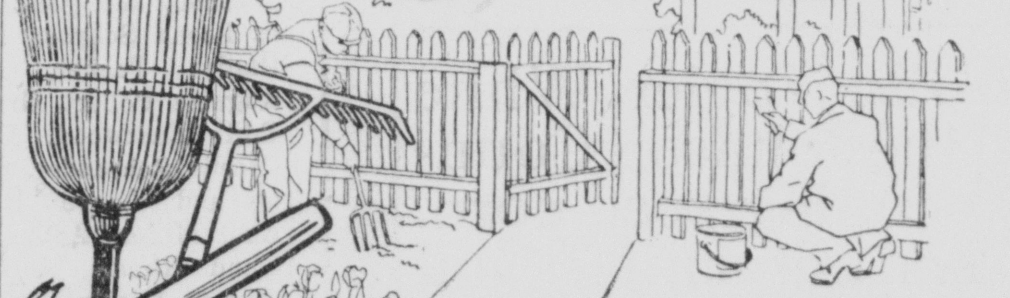

Unless your garden space is large, do not attempt to grow sweet corn. advises a bulletin of the National Emergency Food Garden Commission, which is co-operating with this newspaper in the effort to make idle city lands produce food.

Corn as a garden crop should probably not be attempted on any plot of less than 2,000 square feet. As a small garden crop it is wasteful of space—that is, it produces relatively a small amount of food in proportion to the space it occupies, as compared with such compact crops as beets, spinach, peas, and the like.

No other vegetable gains so much by being fresh. No other loses quality so quickly after being taken from the garden. A city dweller who has not eaten sweet corn freshly plucked from the stalk does not know the true flavor of this delicious and popular vegetable. The sugar, which gives it its characteristic flavor, quickly disappears and becomes starch after the ear has been pulled from the stalk.

Corn is a warm weather plant, which means that it must not be planted until frosts are over and the ground is beginning to warm up. The seed rots easily in cold or damp ground. At the same time corn cannot withstand drouth, so it should be planted in ground that has been deeply spaded so that it will hold moisture. Corn requires shallow, wide, hoeing about the stalks to conserve the moisture below.

Because of the necessity of wide and thorough cultivation during the growing season, corn is usually planted in "hills", 2 or 3 feet apart, the hills being in rows 3 or 4 feet apart. But if your space is limited you can sow the seed in drills (trenches) 2 inches deep and thin out later to one stalk every 10 inches. Plant plenty of seed to allow for dead seeds and those which rot in the ground, a quarter of a pint being enough seed for a row 100 feet long.

SPECULATION AND PRICES.

Certain members of congress, apparently, are thoroughly aroused over the claim that the steadily advancing prices of foodstuffs are due primarily to speculation, rather than to any serious shortage of food commodities. The indignation of certain members even reached the point where they asserted that the whipping post or measures even harsher should be resorted to in dealing with the situation. If there is positive evidence that the soaring prices are due to the speculative methods of a small group of men, these congressmen are justified in becoming aggrieved, and their indignation should be stop with words but should be defined in legislation that will stop an evil that works a hardship upon those who are least able to bear the burden.

If the claim that is made in congressional halls is well founded, congress should not hesitate in dealing effectively with the situation. If a few men can get control of certain commodities to such an extent that they can control the prices, we can see but little need of the vigorous campaigns for more food which are being waged throughout the country. This is a time for congress to do a patriotic duty to the country. This patriotic service is as necessary as the mobilization of troops, the organization of large marine forces and the appropriation of enormous sums for war loans. With the unusual demands for food that are made upon the United States during these abnormal times, the prices would necessarily be affected to some extent, but if the excessive prices are due to speculation instead of a threatened shortage, congress cannot afford to stand idly by and look upon the ever-increasing burden upon the class of citizens who should have every protection that the government can afford. Congress has taken the right step in this matter, and it is to be hoped that some member will have the courage and the inspiration of patriotism to see that if such an evil exists as claimed that the proper remedy will be immediately administered.

A delegation from the Seymour Methodist church has protested against an order issued by the board of health there to the effect that public gatherings must not be held while there is danger of a smallpox epidemic in Seymour. The church people protest against not being allowed to hold services on Sunday when the moving picture shows are allowed to run every night. The protest seems to be well taken. If there is danger of public meetings spreading the disease, surely there is as much chance in picture shows six nights each week as there is in two church services on Sunday.—Columbus Republican.

SOCIAL EVENTS

BUSH—CHASE.

Paris V. Bush and Miss Sylvia Chase, of Lordsburg and well known in Silver City were married at the bride's home in Long Beach where the Chase's are temporarily residing last Saturday, April 21st. The newly weds have taken an apartment in Long Beach for the summer but later will go to housekeeping in Lordsburg where the groom will build a bungalow for the reception of his bride.

The bride is a member of an old and prominent family in southern Grant county, her father being in the mercantile business in Lordsburg. She is a niece of John T. McCabe the wealthy cattleman of that section. She is a graduate of the El Paso School for Girls and also a classical school for girls in San Antonio.

The groom is the editor of the Lordsburg Liberal.

The groom is a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Bush of this city and has many friends here. He has been successfully engaged in newspaper work in the southwest for a number of years and has been prominently identified with many public movements.

CLASS SUPPER

The Young Men's Class of the First M. E. Sunday School enjoyed a delightful supper and social last evening at the church. The appetizing meal was prepared and served by a committee of the Ladies' Aid Society. Following the supper short addresses were made for the welfare of the class and the banqueters then adjourned to the main Sunday school room where a mock trial was held, with Kingsley Brinklow as judge and Paul Bloomer as prosecuting attorney. The trial afforded a delightful diversion and the pleasant evening closed with the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner". Several guests were invited by the members of the class to enjoy the evening.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Leland Ault was the guest of honor at an informal party given Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Moritz, on West Jackson street, the occasion being his birthday anniversary. After a very pleasant evening spent with games and music a buffet luncheon was served.

Among the guests were the Misses Leona Schroer, Rachael Gerdorn, Gladys Tucker, Adelia Kasting, Augusta Pollert, Grace Hauenschild, Edith Eastwood, Esther Alberring, Cecelia Schraeder, Katherine Stradley and Laura Beikman; Messrs. Emil Miller, Arthur Kasting, Raymond Rhude, Henry Bohnenkamp, Payne Bottorff, Bertram Hintzen and Leland Ault.

FIVE HUNDRED PARTY.

A delightful five hundred party was given Thursday evening by Miss Esther Humes at her home on East Third street when she was hostess to a company of friends, entertaining in honor of her guest, Chalmers Bolles of Louisville. The guests composed three tables and concluding the play, an attractive luncheon was served, with the ices forming a color motif of pink and white. Those present were Miss Constance Probst, Miss Margaret Dehler, Miss Irene Dehler, Miss Carol Probst, and Miss Nora Ford; Messrs. Chalmers Bolles, Earl Harrington, George Hackman, John Himler, Honan Willman and Edward Lewis.

CAMPBELL—REASONER.

Announcements have been received by friends in this city, of the marriage of Miss Naomi Reasoner, of Hartford Conn., to Bernard Campbell, also of Hartford. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry T. Reasoner and made her home in Seymour until about two years ago when she moved with her family to Connecticut.

SLUMBER PARTY.

Miss Esther Alberring was hostess at a slumber party, entertaining Thursday night at the home of her sister, Mrs. Vincent Moritz, on West Jackson street. Among the guests were the Misses Laura Beikman, Adelia Kasting, Leona Schroer, Rachael Gerdorn and Augusta Pollert.

CLUB PICNIC

Miss Gertrude James and Miss Ann Martindale accompanied their clubs of high school students on a picnic Thursday evening at Bell's Ford. At the close of the afternoon school session the party hiked to the river where they enjoyed a picnic supper and spent the remainder of the evening with informal games.

KAFFEE KLATCH.

The meeting of the Kaffee Klatch which was to have been held Saturday afternoon at the home of Miss Margaret Brown on East Third street, has been postponed on account of the quarantine.

CHRISTIAN AID SOCIETY

The weekly quilting meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Central Christian church has been postponed on account of the order of the health board.

NIMROD SEWING CLUB

Mrs. Delzie Bozell will entertain the members of the Nimrod Sewing Club this evening at her home on South Walnut street.

War vs. Crops

To Our Farmer Friends:

As we are now at war with another country it is the duty of every citizen to do all he can to help our country. During the past there has been a great many dead animals that we have not been able to get on account or others taking off the hide and burying the body, which, unless done according to law is a finable offense, and is also a great waste as the body of all dead animals should be made into tankage to help feed our soils.

We use all the animals we can get for our Animal Matter Fertilizers and as tankage is very scarce at present every one who has a dead animal should notify us at once so that we may be able to keep up our supply of animal matter for our fertilizers and in this manner work for the benefit of both, as by this we can furnish the farmer the very best fertilizer made and he has done his part by letting us have his dead animals for this purpose.

Be sure and notify us when you have a dead animal, also when ready for your fertilizer write us or come in and see us. There is no better fertilizer made than ours and the price is as low as it is possible for us to make it.

The following is contributed by a local physician:

The civilized nations of the world no longer question the advisability of vaccination to eradicate smallpox.

The best informed scientists, sanitarians and physicians the world over, advocate vaccination. Statistics prove beyond a question the efficacy of vaccination. Germany has stamped out smallpox, as an epidemic, by vaccination.

Russia still loses about 40,000 per year from smallpox. Every informed person admits that virulent cases are rare on account of repeated vaccinations. Cease vaccination and we shall again have virulent cases. Be consistent and vaccinate.

SOLDIERS GIVE NO THOUGHT TO DEATH

U-BOAT CAMPAIGN IS MODERN PIRACY

Australian "Tommy" Declares Men in Trenches Become Fatalists.

Story of Murder of Crew of French Schooner Leontine Rivals Capt. Kidd's Treachery.

FATAL SHELL NOT HEARD

NO OPPORTUNITY FOR ESCAPE

Taking Chances is Part of a Soldier's Life and He Meets Conditions Cheerfully.

Frail Craft Then Shattered by Shrapnel Fire from Submarine and Collapses.

London, May 4—"You never hear the shell that hits you." This was a "Tommy's" answer when asked why soldiers aren't afraid. When one has seen the terrific havoc wrought by a 5.9 shell when it bursts, it seems almost inconceivable that soldiers under direct fire from the enemy batteries could be anything but afraid even if they are too brave to show it.

Yet soldiers are not afraid. Being under fire in the first-line trenches becomes a part of their every-day life until they can go about their work seemingly unconscious of danger.

Asked for an explanation of this the young Australian "Tommy" put the whole matter into those eight words.

In doing so he exposed a curious factor in the life of the British soldier at the front, a sort of fatalism, alien to the customary temperament of the race. For the soldier becomes an extreme fatalist once he becomes accustomed to his surroundings. He can look death in the face because he does not recognize it.

It was in a little Italian restaurant in the heart of London that this soldier, fresh from eleven months' service, explained in simple language the feelings and sensations of the man at the front and the reason he is not afraid.

"So long as you can hear the shells burst or whine overhead you know you're all right," he explained. "The beggar that's going to get you never makes any noise. The boys told me this when I first got out there and I pretty quickly found out it was true."

"But how about the time when the enemy is slowly getting your range and each shell bursts nearer and nearer, and you know in a minute or two one of them is going to find you?" was asked.

The Tommy thought for a moment, meditatively fingering a shrapnel scar on his cheek.

"I don't know whether you civilian chaps who haven't been under fire can understand," he said finally, "but when a man is out there in front doing his bit everything is different. Although the boys see death all around them, they don't recognize it's after them till just the last minute, and then I haven't seen a British soldier yet that didn't die happy."

"When the enemy, as you say, is slowly getting your range you'll hear a chap remark, 'That beggar was a bit closer,' or something like that, but always in a joking way. Nobody's ever serious out there, except when there's work to be done. Life's too short to worry. Out there taking chances is part of the business. In London you just naturally don't do it."

BUSINESS MAN

IS GIVEN HELP

"I Feel Better Than For Months Since Taking Tanlac," Argenta Says.

Michigan City, Ind., May 3, 1917—F. G. Argenta, 808 West Ninth street, this city, proprietor of the Royal Cigars Co., and one of Michigan City's best known business men, has tried Tanlac, the Master Medicine, and has got back his health through its use. He said on December 16:

"My stomach has been out of order for months. Gas formed in it and every meal made me sick all over. I had no desire for food and what little I did eat didn't agree with me. I was so constipated that I had to use laxatives all the time. My kidneys bothered me, too. I had severe pains in my back often.

"I knew several persons in Michigan City who indorsed Tanlac and I asked them about the medicine. They recommended it to me so highly that I decided to try it. I've taken two bottles of Tanlac now and my stomach has been placed in such good condition that I'm eating my meals regularly again and am enjoying my food thoroughly. Everything I eat is digested properly. The constipation has disappeared entirely. I'm gaining in strength every day now and feel better than for months."

Tanlac, the Master Medicine, is especially beneficial for stomach, liver and kidney trouble, catarrhal complaints, loss of appetite and after effects of pneumonia, colds, la grippe and the like.

Tanlac is now being introduced and explained in Seymour at Federmann's Drug Store, Successor to Carter's Drug Store.

"Inside" Information About Eczema

Washing the skin, rubbing salves and lotions on it, will not cure your Eczema. You may temporarily relieve the constant itching, but if you want to get at the seat of the trouble, you must purify your blood.

Infected blood is dangerous, and when the watery sores and pimples appear, you should lose no time in procuring a bottle of S. S. S.

This great remedy, which was discovered over fifty years ago, will wash out and strengthen your blood, and the annoying and disfiguring eruptions of the skin will disappear, and you will soon feel healthy and vigorous again.

S. S. S. being purely vegetable, is entirely free from all "dope" and drugs; get it at your druggist's and insist upon the genuine. For free, expert advice, write to our Medical Department, Swift Specific Co., 307 Swift Building, Atlanta, Ga.

as he attempted to mount the bridge, returned to the deck and courageously carried two of the victims to shelter forward.

The "Leontine" was now riddled like a sieve but did not sink. The Germans then fired incendiary shells which started a fire in the stern. The blaze, however, as if fate had intervened, did not spread. Immediately a boat left the submarine and a party came aboard to sink the "Leontine" with bombs. Seeing that all the crew was either killed or wounded, the boarding party placed their bombs and prepared to leave.

On the deck, the first mate and cabin boy, the latter a child of tender years, fearing the explosion, appealed to the enemy. Revolvers shots answered their appeals. Aboard the submarine, the crew which crowded its deck applauded this act with laughter and shouts.

Shortly before the first bomb exploded aboard the "Leontine" the submarine turned and steamed to a safer place. The explosion tore a gaping hole in the vessel's side. The first mate, who survived his double injury, faintly called to the captain that another bomb was about to explode. This bomb was hanging over the side by a cord and the captain cut the cord. The first bomb had done its work. Water was lapping the deck. The little ship wallowed in the waves and a sudden gust of wind threw her strongly to port and she capsized immediately.

The survivors, four in number—captain, first mate, cabin boy and a sailor, whom the captain aided to hide himself forward—were thrown into the sea, but managed to keep afloat on wreckage which surrounded their battered ship. By superhuman efforts they detached one of the "Leontine's" boats and crawled into it.

The boat, battered by shrapnel, capsized. By this time the mate and cabin boy had succumbed to their wounds. The two others crawled atop the capsized boat while the Captain, summoning all his strength, appealed to the submarine which lay some distance away watching the show. The answer to this was the training at the U-Boat's deck gun on the two helpless men. No shot was fired, the enemy probably being content to let the victims die a slower death. The submarine then cruised heartlessly out of sight.

Four hours of intense suffering passed before the survivors were signalled and picked up by a passing ship. They are safely ashore today, recovering and able to tell the tragic story of modern heartless piracy.

CHAPTER IV.

The Mother's Blessing.

FACE to face, the patriarch and the younger son stood defiantly. The elder man spoke first. "Thy mother hath told me," he said sternly.

"Aye, I would have my portion," responded Jether bravely.

"And one day thou shalt have it, when thou art fit to use it wisely."

Jether determined to put on a bold front with his father.

"I am about to go forth into the big world," he said, with determination. "I shall need it now where I go."

Jesse came to him, less stern, with more affection in his voice than he had hitherto disclosed.

"My son," he said tenderly, "we need thee here—not only for the work there is to do, but for the joy thy presence brings to our hearts. I have already said how dear thou art to us. One day thou, too, wilt yield thy strength to age. Think how thou wouldst feel to see a well beloved son of thine leave thee in thine old age for strangers!"

Jether turned away from him moodily.

"Thou hast said: he works hard," he retorted.

"Aye, that he doth, but thou—thou art so young, so inexperienced in the ways of the world. Almost thou seemest dearest to us because thou hast need of us. How could we be sure that among strangers thou wouldst remain faithful to all the teachings of thy childhood?"

"Have I no understanding of mine own?" demanded Jether.

"But thou dost not know the world."

"Then give me my portion, for I would learn it for myself!" cried Jether.

The aged patriarch drew himself up firmly.

"Nay, my son," he said sternly.

Jether came to him indignantly. "Have I no rights?" he demanded.

"Thou thinkest only of thy wealth, to save it, and not of my rights."

"Hath not thy mother rights?" thundered Jesse in reply. "When thou wert sent to us," he continued, controlling himself with an effort and speaking with great emotion—"when thou wert born she was no longer young. I had great fear that I might lose her for thy sake. In my distress I cried out to the Lord, and in his mercy she was spared. Then as thou didst grow we saw our joy reflected in thy face. Thou wert a fair, unblemished child, fit for the service of the temple, but we begrudged it. Is this now our punishment? Our one thought was but to hold thee in our sight. When thou didst kill thy first wolf in the mountains I rejoiced, proud of thy courage, and thy mother wept and rejoiced with me. How can we now let thee go away to face a hundred perils of which thou knowest naught?"

Jether clinched his fists angrily.

"Thou thinkest only of thyself and mother," he protested. "But what of me? Have I no rights? All that ye offer here is naught to what I shall win elsewhere. The more thou sayest the more I know how much I want my freedom. Give me my share and let me go."

Jesse shook his head again.

"It is my wealth, to give or keep, until I yield my ghost. We wish time to weigh this matter carefully. After tomorrow, when thou hast told us more, perhaps—"

"Nay, I would have it now," insisted Jether.

Naomi, who had listened with quickening pulse as she clung to the patient Huldah, came to her uncle and knelt before him.

"I pray thee, uncle," she said softly, "let him depart."

Jesse turned to her in amazement and motioned her to rise.

"What! Thee, too, Naomi? Thou wouldst have him go?"

"Let him behold Jerusalem, uncle," pleaded the young girl, a glance of loving affection cast toward Jether. "He will return. Not to the hour, perhaps, the day, the month, but he will return. I know it. Let him see Jerusalem. Let him see the world with thy permission, or else perhaps—"

"Enough!" cried Jesse sternly, as he bade her return to Huldah. "This friend of thine, Jether, with whom thou wouldst go to Jerusalem—I would see him. Call him."

Jether strove to appear unembarrassed, but he hesitated as he walked to the corner of the house and called, "My friend, come here!"

Tola, careless, indifferent, almost impudent, swaggered into view. He came straight to the aged patriarch, bowed before him and smiled.

Huldah, clasping the frightened Naomi in her arms, drew back in horror as she beheld the lines of dissipation which threaded the countenance of Tola.

"Oh, my son, it is an evil face!" she cried. And Jesse, dimly comprehending with failing eyesight the identity of the smirking and smiling visage before him, suddenly raised his staff as though to strike the intruder. He had recognized him.

"So, then, it is thou, thou cheat, thou gambler, thou liar!" he thundered with rage. "And it is thou who wouldst corrupt my boy? Out of my house, thou lying, dishonorable cheat—begone before I strike thee, old as I am!"

Tola laughed, a mocking, sneering laugh, as he faced the aged Jesse, who half raised his staff as though to strike down the man who would tempt Jether to leave home. Tola cautiously retreated out of the range of the staff.

"Thou hast some memory for all thine old age, friend Jesse," he sneered. "But why look upon me with such a hostile eye. In all these years couldst not forget the fruit a boy stole from thy burdened trees?"

Jether, indignant at the rebuke administered by his father, turned to the mother with an appealing look. She put her arms about his shoulders.

CLOSER UNION OF ITALY AND FRANCE

National Jealousies and Artistic Rivalries, Barriers in Past Years, Forgotten.

BOTH FIGHT FOR SAME CAUSE

Leaders in Both Nations Give Thought and Attention to Future Conditions.

(By John H. Hearley, United Press Staff Correspondent)

Rome, Italy, May 4—National jealousies and artistic rivalries which have been noticeable barriers in past years to close co-operation between Italy and France, are being forgotten in the stress of the world war and are giving way to a feeling of close unity that may result in a close alliance of the two great Latin countries.

This new condition of affairs, which is being appreciated more fully daily, was placed squarely before Italy today by a significant article published by the Secolo di Turin. It was headed "Union Latina," and was written by the distinguished Romolo Caggese.

"Recent events in Russia, in the United States and in China have fixed the eyes of the world on the future," Caggese asserts. "One hundred million Germans will occupy Central Europe. Several square kilometres of territory stretching across two continents will be peopled by two hundred million Slavs. To balance such conditions a large Latin family, holding possessions between the Channel and Gibraltar and the Tirenno and the Yonio must be formed. It must, however, be formed on a firm and solid basis."

Caggese predicts that the world will be "dominated by the law of numbers and racial feelings will become stronger than they have ever been. Otherwise, he says, the results of victory 'will amount to nothing,' and Italy, France and perhaps Spain 'will again fall prey to German rapacity.' He predicts that other races would hesitate to 'buck against a block on one hundred million Latins.' He follows with many reasons why France and Italy should welcome a firm alliance.

There is much speculation as to the attitude of the present pope. He is often characterized as "Rompolla's pupil," and Rompolla as cardinal secretary of state favored and worked for a union of Latin nations.

POWER TO FIX PRICES OF FOOD COMMODITIES ASKED

Authority to Regulate the Production and Distribution of Food Asked of Congress.

Washington, May 4—Absolute authority to regulate, in its discretion, the production, distribution and prices of food and other necessities during the war was asked of Congress by the Administration.

In a sweeping bill introduced with Administration approval by Chairman Lever, of the House Agriculture Committee, it is proposed to empower the President, under the war clause of the Constitution, to take these measures whenever, in his opinion, the national emergency shall require:

To fix maximum and minimum prices for food, clothing, fuel and other necessities, and the articles required for their production;

To prescribe regulations to govern the production of these commodities and if necessary to requisition the producing factories, mines or other establishments;

To compel holders of necessities to release them in amounts insuring equitable distribution;

To regulate exchanges in such a way as to eliminate market manipulation;

To compel railroads to give preference to the movement of necessities;

To levy such importation duties as he finds necessary to prevent excessive "dumping" of foreign products; and

To impose limitations or prohibitions upon the use of grain in the manufacture of liquor.

In addition, the Secretary of Agriculture would be empowered to establish standard food grades, to license and control the manufacture, storage and distribution of foods; to prescribe the percentage of flour to be milled from wheat, and to regulate the mixing of wheat flour with other flour in the making of bread and other food.

In a statement Mr. Lever declared there was nothing in the measure to disturb legitimate business activities, because "it is hoped that the mere conferring of the more extreme new powers will be sufficient without it becoming necessary to exercise them." It is known that officials of the executive branches of the Government hold the same view, believing that with such effective weapons in their possession they will encounter no difficulty in lining up on the side of the public interest without legal action all recalcitrant private agencies.

STEAMER ESCAPES TORPEDO

French Liner Arrives Safely After Firing on Submarine.

By United Press.

Paris, May 4—The French liner Rochambeau recently arrived at a French port, narrowly escaped a torpedo fired by a German submarine, according to one of her passengers today. The torpedo missed by only ten yards. The Rochambeau fired immediately at the submarine and it is not known whether the shells found their mark.

Government to Act.

By United Press.

Washington, May 4—German socialists in this country who attempt to force a separate peace between Germany and Russia will be dealt with to the full extent of the United States law, if their acts can be proved, the state department announced today.

Senreco

REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.

The double-service tooth paste, keeps teeth clean AND GUMS HEALTHY.

Keeping the gums healthy and the mouth sweet is very important to health; more teeth are lost through the loosening of the tissue that holds the teeth in place than from decay.

Dental science to-day demands that a tooth paste must keep the gums healthy as well as clean the teeth.

Senreco was formulated to meet this requirement. Hundreds of dentists are prescribing and using Senreco because they have found that it does measure up to that standard.

SENRECO IS A WONDERFUL CLEANSER.

In addition to its remedial properties Senreco is a wonderful cleanser; acts directly on the mucin film, the basis of tartar; leaves the mouth cool and clean-feeling. As some one has expressed it—Senreco gives one a new idea on mouth cleanliness.

Get a tube to-day at your druggists or toilet counter—enjoy the healthy, cleanly feeling its use gives your mouth and gums. Notice how brilliantly white Senreco makes your teeth. It performs this two-fold service for you and yet costs no more than the ordinary, old-fashioned tooth paste that simply cleans the teeth and leaves a pleasant taste—25 cents for a large 2 ounce tube.

Richmond, Ind.—"For two years I was so sick and weak with troubles from my age that when going up stairs I had to go very slowly with my hands on the steps, then sit down at the top to rest. The doctor said he thought I should have an operation, and my friends thought I would not live to move into our new house. My daughter asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as she had taken it with good results. I did so, my weakness disappeared, I gained in strength, moved into our new home, did all kinds of garden work, shoveled dirt, did building and cement work, and raised hundreds of chickens and ducks. I cannot say enough in praise of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and if these facts are useful you may publish them for the benefit of other women."
